PREFACE

We are glad to submit the Annual Quality Assurance Report of the college for the academic year 2015-16.

We conduct induction programme for fresher to solve their problems and dealing with national development and integration, global competency, use of technology and moral/ethical values. We started Study Centre of Yashwantrao Chavan Maharashtra Open University, Nashik, on the occasion of birth anniversary of our beloved Chairman Hon. Shrimant Gaytridevi Pantpratinidhi (Ranisaheb) to provide post graduate education to rural and needy student and to spread education for the welfare of masses. EDUSAT (IIRS / ISRO) courses on basic of Remote Sensing, GIS and GNSS and Geospatial Technologies for Urban Planning courses were conducted by Department of Geography.

We organised training programme on 'Human Rights', sponsored by National Human Rights Commission, New Delhi. Department of economics organized conference on 'Economy in Drought Prone Areas' sponsored by NABARD, New Delhi. Department of Geography and History organized workshops on new revised syllabus sponsored by Shivaji University, Kolhapur. Vivekvahini, department creates positive and constructive attitude, scientific attitude and rational thinking, awareness regarding superstitions and beliefs. Three Asst. Professors awarded with Ph.D. degree. Vijaya Gharge (B.A.II) won Gold Medal in Boxing at national level competition. We celebrated the teacher's day, students expressed gratitude about teachers. Our college organized science models and poster exhibition to create scientific attitude among the students.

We congratulate the students, administrative staff and the members of faculty for their excellent achievement.

Best Practices

The best practices for year are:

A) Competitive Examination: Guidance and Training

B) Vivekvahini

Best Practice No 1:

1) Title: Guidance of Competitive Examination

Goals:

1. To organise lectures of experts in competitive examination.
2. To provide study material and books of competitive examination..

Context:

One of the distinguishing characteristics of the higher education scenario in recent times has been the dominance of competitive examinations. Immediately after Class XII, it is impossible to get into any professional course on the basis of the school leaving marks alone. Finally, a whole range of government/public sector jobs are also available only after clearing competitive examinations, the coveted Civil Services being only the most well known.

There is of course a stated rationale behind this proliferation of competitive examinations. The logic goes as follows: given that the standards of various examinations (CBSE, State Boards, Universities etc.) are so different, there is no way we can compare the marks obtained in these examinations and use them to assess the quality of the candidate. Hence, we carry out our own assessment. Of course, it is assumed by each agency that their examination in some sense does indeed assess the true quality of the student!
