Course Objectives

Objectives and Guiding Principles of Environmental Education:

- Imparting basic knowledge about the environment and its allied problems.
- Developing an attitude of concern for the environment.
- Motivating public to participate in environment protection and environment improvement.

Environmental education is a process that allows individuals to explore environmental issues, engage in problem solving, and take action to improve the environment. As a result, individuals develop a deeper understanding of environmental issues and have the skills to make informed and responsible decisions.

Awareness—to help social groups and individuals acquire an awareness and sensitivity to the total environment and its allied problems. ... Skills—to help social groups and individuals acquire the skills for identifying and solving environmental problems.

The goals of Environmental Educational are to develop concern and awareness among world population about the total environment and its associated problems and commitment to work individually and collectively towards solution of current problems and the prevention.

Environmental objectives are goals that you would like to meet in the future. Targets are the means for providing verifiable evidence that you have actually met the objective. For example, your environmental objective may be to reduce the generation of hazardous wastes.

The main objective of environmental economics is to maintain a balance between economic development and environmental quality. In order to achieve it, environmental economists have to explore the various socio-economic possibilities to reduce pollution and uplift the standard of living of the people.

Objectives are to conserve natural resources and the existing natural environment and, where possible, to repair damage and reverse trends. Due to the pressures of overconsumption, population growth and technology, the biophysical environment being degraded, sometimes permanently.
